SEOUL, Dec. 18.—(INS)—America threw the fastest known plane in the world—the F-86 Saberjet—into its first combat yesterday and scored a clear-cut victory over the Russian-made MIG-15.

Four of the ultra-modern U. S. single-jet planes engaged in a spectacular aerial battle over Korea with four 650-mile-per-hour MIGs and shot down one of the Manchuria-based enemy jets.

It marked the first time any plane has been able to outspeed the MIGs and indicated that unless the Russians provide new surprise jets or the Chinese the Americans now have the speediest planes in the Korean skies.

The sleek Saberjets took on the Russian-made planes three and a half miles up in the air and emerged unscathed. One of the enemy planes was shot down and the other three forced to flee back to Manchuria's "privileged sanctuary."

The roaring battle between the world's two fastest known planes was fought over Sinuiju on the Yalu river border between North Korea and Manchuria.

The downed MIG came plummeting to earth in flames after Lt. Col. Bruce Hinton, Stockton, Calif., had told it in his sights long enough to pour four bursts into the enemy jet.

Previously no plane had been able to stay with an MIG long enough to fire four separate bursts. The other three Saberjet pilots also reported that they were gaining on their MIG opponents in the all-speed race for the border when the King's Ex zone of Manchuria.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force announced the battle today after

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The United Nations cease-fire committee met twice yesterday to determine a course of action in view of Poling's rejection of a truce. The three-man body will make an interim report today to the General Assembly's Political Committee.

Secretary Acheson flew to Belgium for vital conferences with the "complete confidence" of President Truman despite last week's Republican demand for his resignation. Mr. Acheson and leaders of other members of the North Atlantic Council will complete plans for an integrated Western European defense force, including elements from West Germany, to be commanded by General Eisenhower. The Secretary of State will also plan, with the British and French Foreign Ministers, a combined strategy to meet Communist pressure in the Far East.

Before Mr. Acheson is scheduled to reach Brussels, the military heads will meet and prepare the way for the North Atlantic Council to take final action. Britain rejected, as a "patently tactical device timed to coincide" with the Brussels meeting, the Soviet protest against including West German forces. French Foreign Minister Schuman said it was "just and logical" for Bonn to take part in defending Western Europe. Political opinion in Germany appeared more concerned over the Kremlin's opposition than were the leaders of the Allied nations.

Congress reconvenes today with the prospect of sitting until the end of the year to clear the calendar of pending defense legislation. Stabilization chiefs are expected to announce that direct controls are virtually in effect now and that unjustified price and wage increases will be rolled back. Motor manufacturers criticized the order nullifying recent price increases but said they would obey. Walter Reuther, auto union head, warned that any attempt to void contracts tying wages to living costs would violate the entire contract. The Textile Workers Union will demand substantial pay raises tied to living costs.

Education Commissioner McGrath submitted to Selective Service officials a plan for deferment of students without any general exemption.

Favors were small candy canes. Three guests attended—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harrity and Mrs. Elwood Goslin, Mrs. Harrity and Mrs. Goslin representing the Senior Travel Club. They each received a corsage of white carnations.

The dinner was followed by carol singing led by Jack Spencer, after which dancing was enjoyed.

COUNTY'S WARDS TO HAVE JOLLY CHRISTMAS

Probation Dept. Workers Planning Gifts for Children

SOME TOYS NEEDED

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 18.—Bucks County's 210 children or wards are going to have a Merry Christmas if juvenile probation department workers have anything to do with it. The workers are headed by Mrs. Kathryn C. Stead, for the girls, and Robert W. Shields, for the boys. They are working overtime to make the arrangements a complete success.

Mrs. Stead, who is caring for 120 boys and girls, ranging in age from one year to about 17, said: "I have one child who wants an express wagon. Now, express wagons are a bit more than we feel the County Commissioners' budget will allow so we are hoping some one will give us an express wagon."

Mrs. Stead, who said gifts for her children will be fewer, but better, explained that they will get wearing apparel, dolls, footballs, sewing kits, crayon sets, games and all the other things children like.

"I make an effort to learn what the children are interested in, what they like and what their interests are," said Mrs. Stead, who is buying paint sets, modeling sets, or plastic builders for those artistically inclined.

She pointed out that children in seven "free homes," where the children do not have to pay any board, and 65 foster homes will receive Yuletide gifts. "There are also homes where the circumstances don't permit what it takes for a nice Christmas, so we help out there too."

Mrs. Stead's institutions include Sleighton Farms, Delaware county; Laurelton State Village, near State College; Martha Lloyd School, near Troy, and Margaret Duerr Juvenile School, Milford; Elwyn Training and Pennhurst State School.

Mrs. Stead praised the seven free homes where the "parents" have not adopted the children, but where no one pays for the children's keep except the "parents" who are extremely kind.

Robert W. Shields, Juvenile Probation Officer, has been buying ties and candy for 90 boys.

Boys, who are in such institutions as Kis-Lyn Industrial School, Glen Mills School, Philadelphia Junior Protective, Pennsylvania Junior Republic and Pennsylvania Industrial School will each receive individual gifts.

Eight or nine boys, who are at the Hershey Industrial School, which is not a corrective institution, will also be remembered.

Probation Officer Shields' boys range in age from 12 to 18 years, and he also remembers those on probation.

The County Commissioners, who play Santa Claus to the county's children provide the money to make the Yuletide season brighter in some unfortunate's life.

FIRE ROUTS TWO FAMILIES EARLY YESTERDAY MORNING FROM HOMES IN CROYDON; LOSE THEIR POSSESSIONS

CROYDON, Dec. 18.—Fire yesterday morning routed two families of nine persons when flames flared in their dwellings. Both properties were considerably damaged and clothing, furniture and Christmas gifts were destroyed.

The first fire was at 843 Stella avenue. This house is occupied by E. E. Watters, his wife, son John, and a granddaughter, Brenda, 6. Brenda and John had their sleeping quarters in the front of the house, while Mr. and Mrs. Watters occupied a room in the center of the bungalow.

Brenda discovered the fire and aroused her uncle. All of the family got out of the house but they lost their furniture and clothing. The blaze started in the baseboard near a radio. This fire was at 12:20 Sunday morning.

The Bucks County Rescue Squad removed John Watters to a doctor's office in Bristol and then to his home. Watters suffered first and second degree burns of the face, neck, back and hips, after he had entered a burning residence attempting to rescue his niece.

The second blaze was at the dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ulmer, Brown's Lane. This was due to a defective flue. The fire started at the ceiling of the first floor and burned up through the walls to the second floor. The flames spread through the second floor, destroying furniture and clothing.

Mr. Ulmer was asleep on the first floor. Three children, Charles, 4, Loretta, 2, and Karlann, 1, were in bed on the second floor in one room and their mother was in an adjoining room.

Mrs. Ulmer was aroused by the smoke and she carried all three children to the first floor and aroused her husband. "It was my wife who saved the children," Mr. Ulmer says.

Once again the residents of Croydon proved just what good neighbors they can be in time of need when they came to the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robinson, neighbors of the Ulmers, realized their sad plight and called James E. Harris at noon asking for help for the stricken family. Mr. Harris, knowing of the quick response and good neighborliness of the Croydon P. T. A., called Mrs. Morris Shifferstine and Mrs. Daniel Davis. With the help of their fellow-members, Mrs. Leo Burke, Mrs. Howard Taylor, Mrs. Elsie McKinney, Mrs. Philip Meyer, Mrs. Howard Polk, Mrs. Walter Pfender and Mrs. Grif-

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

It looks like the Supreme Court is protecting our freedoms so well you can't tell who's threatening them.

As we understand it now, an American is privileged to go to Korea to fight Chinese Communists but he's got to be careful about annoying the native variety at home.

But one of our current oddities is that no one shouts more often for the Bill of Rights than the fellow suspected of traveling with the Lefts.

And I still think a fellow who won't answer a question like "Are you a member of the Communist Party?" is more concerned with his own constitution than the Constitution of the land.

The Court may say a man doesn't have to incriminate himself but when a hit-and-run suspect is asked "Do you drive an automobile?" and he says "I refuse to answer" it's time to inspect his fenders for dents.

This may not be the liberal stratospheric approach to reality but it's kind of satisfying and usually works.

ATTACKING RUSSIA

Citizens are unanimous in their conviction that the war, if one must be, should be fought against Russia, the instigator of aggression, and not against some puppet like China.

But China is at war with the United States. Should this country appease China? Washington seems to think so, although the idea is repugnant to most Americans. If China could be called off by making "concessions," seems to be the administration view, time would be gained to prepare against Russia.

Realistic observers hew to the belief that China is obeying Moscow implicitly and will do nothing without a nod from the Kremlin.

If China could be bought off, how would U. S. forces go about taking on the main enemy? The only move that seems plausible would be the attempted spraying of atom bombs on Russian cities. Whether this country has the bases for that within feasible distance is known to the military.

Russia has a large defensive air fleet which may be powerful enough to turn back or shoot down bomb carriers. And Russia might seize a base near the United States—say Alaska—and from there attack U. S. cities.

The United States needs all-around military strength to face Russia. The country has fiddled and fiddled about rearmament. Until rearmament has progressed much farther, there is no use talking about attacking Russia. There is, sadly, no way in which it could be done successfully at this time.

FRANCO ON THE PROWL

Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain hasn't changed much. During World War II when the Allies had their backs to the wall, the Spanish dictator began to agitate for the return of Gibraltar to Spain. At that time he was the avowed friend and ally of the Axis, and may have hoped that German troops would help his own forces recover Gibraltar. Now Franco seems to think the time is ripe to again push the same demand.

His demand occupied half the front page of Arriba, official Falangist publication. It was the culmination of a sudden two-week campaign in the controlled Spanish press, which went to some lengths to fan hatred toward Britain.

Franco said the British acquired Gibraltar "treacherously" 246 years ago. He admitted that it has no present value to Spain and is not worth a war. "It is a question," he said, "of a fruit that some day must ripen and fall."

Franco now claims to be a friend of the West and an unalloyed anti-communist. His present move—variously interpreted as an attempt to raise the price of his anti-communism and as a red herring to take the minds of his people off their poor diet under his dictatorship—can hardly please any governments outside the Russian orbit.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Aug. 6, 1902. The Gazette, a weekly news paper published at Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

During the electric storm of Sunday evening, at Oxford Valley, lightning struck the barn of James Pattison, near Roelofs, destroying the barn, crops, and one yearling heifer. By hard work the house, which was near the barn, was saved.

On Tuesday, the 29th inst., the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Tullytown Christian Church surprised their pastor, the Rev. P. Pittman, on his birthday, presenting him with a substantial purse as a remembrance of the event. The young people brought their refreshments and spent an enjoyable evening as the guests of Rev. and Mrs. Pittman.

A "watermelon feast" will be given on the lawn of the Second Baptist Church, Bristol, on Friday, Aug. 15th. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the pastor, Rev. J. T. Thornton.

The material has been ordered for the erection of a row of twenty new houses on the Jefferson avenue tract purchased by Messrs. Peirce, Williams, and DeGroot. The houses will be erected on Trenton avenue, a new street which will be opened running parallel with the railroad. The houses will be for sale.

Saturday, August 2nd, was Shepherds of Bethlehem day at Burlington Island Park. About 500 members of the order arrived from Philadelphia on the steamer "Columbia" at 10 o'clock. Sixty-two members of Shepherds Delight Lodge, No. 1, of Bristol, attended the picnic, and were favored at supper with the presence of the Supreme Scribe of the order, Lady Eva Wyckoff, of Camden, N. J.

During the absence of the Rev. Theodore Stevens, pastor of the M. E. Church, Bristol, the pulpit will be filled as follows: Aug. 10th, Rev. J. M. Smith; Aug. 17th, Rev. William Elliot; Aug. 24th, Rev. W. H. Clossin; Aug. 31st, Rev. Hercules Atkins.

Shortly before one o'clock this morning fire broke out in the carriage house in the rear of Burnet Landreth's residence at Bloomsdale. The flames quickly spread to the adjoining buildings, containing seed packing machinery, printing office and general office of the firm of D. Landreth & Sons. The carriage house was burned to the ground, and the packing house completely gutted, leaving but the standing walls. The fire is supposed to have been started by spontaneous combustion. The loss will reach about $40,000, covered by insurance. The Bristol companies responded to the still alarm, but owing to lack of facilities only the steamer could be used. Great difficulty was experienced in getting water. The steamer was run down to the river and backed down the beach. The fire assumed such great proportions that aid was summoned from Burlington. The ferryboat made a special trip at three o'clock and brought over four Burlington companies, including the Hope Company's steamer. The Mitchell, Young America and Endeavor companies rendered assistance. The fire raged furiously until daylight, when it was finally gotten under control. Much of the contents of the buildings were saved.

The annual merchants' picnic which will be held at Burlington on Wednesday, August 20th, will be a great affair and thousands of excursionists will visit the island on that day. The stores of Bristol will be closed that day. The picnic will be participated in by the merchants of all the towns along the river from Trenton to Philadelphia. Unusual attractions have been engaged. The picnic committee held a meeting last week in Burlington. A communication was received from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, stating that they will run special trains between Burlington and Mt. Holly, the fare to be reduced to twenty-five cents for round trip.

The Wilmington Steamboat Company offered the use of a steam launch to the committee for the occasion. The offer was accepted.

Captain Brown, manager of the Delaware River Navigation Company, promises to transport passengers to and from the island, if it takes a fleet of boats to accommodate the crowd. He is determined to meet the demands no matter how large the attendance.

The prizes for the sporting events are already coming in to such an extent that in some cases three prizes will be awarded.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1950
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The State Department's Ambassador-at-Large, Philip C. Jessup, intimate of Alger Hiss and exponent of a plan to dump all U. S. atomic bombs in the Atlantic Ocean, is roaming the country again, scolding the American people for doubting the wisdom of Dean Acheson.

Up to the time of this current tour at the taxpayer's expense, Jessup had shied away from public platforms owing to the tenacity of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, who delighted in picking the ambassador's brains apart on the communist issue.

Jessup reacted like a warmed-up wasp when McCarthy questioned his fitness to be an ambassador. He was especially annoyed when it was pointed out that the noted communist, Frederick Vanderbilt Field, had supplied $6,500 to help Jessup run a pro-Soviet magazine on the Far East. He didn't like it, either, when his membership in five notorious communist fronts was exposed. This was none of McCarthy's or the American public's business, was the idea.

Jessup, however, has made it his business to tell the American people how to think regarding the State Department and Acheson. He harps on the old theme that if anybody doubts the wisdom of the department's double-domes, our foreign policy will be irreparably harmed.

What Jessup is really blaming on State Department critics is that they are advocating a war on China. "It is perfectly clear that nothing would give more satisfaction to those directing the strategy of Communist imperialism than to see the United States entangled in a full-scale war on the mainland of Asia. There are thoughtless people in this country who would have us fall into this trap."

In fairness, I think Jessup should name them. He should call his shots on the people he charges with "irresponsible criticism of U. S. foreign policy in the Far East, that attempts to undermine confidence in our country and spread fear."

That is a pretty serious indictment, who are these Americans? Senators Taft, Millikin, McCarthy? Jessup says these "thoughtless" people are trying to get the country into a war. He overlooks the fact that we are already in one in Korea, due largely to some of his own blundering. But we ought to have the names, since this is what McCarthy's critics kept harping on until he ticked off those names, one by one.

Jessup doesn't want all criticism stopped. Just some types. "Criticism is a normal part of our Democratic procedure, but some types of criticism would imply that it is the United States which made or makes policies adopted in Berlin or Moscow," he says. He wants to set aside certain areas wherein his policies and those of the State Department can be criticized. That's democracy to Jessup. Otherwise criticism is harmful "re-examination."

Secretary Acheson hung this label, as a substitute for isolationism, on Senator Taft and then tried to deny authorship a few days later when the heat was turned on. For all but the leftwingers, Senator Millikin laid this to rest when he termed the statement "Achesonian jackassery."

Try as they might Acheson and Jessup are not going to stop a review of their policy on the Far East. These are the switch-hitting twins who once viewed the Chinese Communist as peaceful farmers and who did their best to ruin Chiang Kai-Shek and his Nationalist government. Their own records bear this out. And neither one would be talking so much if they didn't know it. In fact, Acheson is ready to embark on a junket around the country trying to explain away his failures. Jessup is acting as a sort of scout to draw the fire so his boss will know what to avoid. Jessup has been diametrically (and expensively) wrong on China all along. He has been equally wrong on communist traitors in the government. He had a chance to clean his cuffs on Alger Hiss, but, like Acheson, he declined to turn his back. He told Senator Hickenlooper, of Iowa, during the Tydings whitewash of communists in government, that he "saw no reason to alter his opinion" of Hiss. This was after Hiss had been convicted.

I see no reason now for anyone in the country to pay any attention to Jessup, except to remind him that he is wasting our money junketing around the country. What is an ambassador-at-large anyway? We could get somebody to "explain" the State Department to Rotary clubs for less than $17,500 a year.

BALD THIEF

LONDON — (INS) — A bald head reportedly made Douglas Wright, 26-year-old laborer, a criminal. This was revealed during Wright's recent trial at Chester Assizes when he was jailed for two years for robbery and violence. A police constable mentioned that Wright had an inferiority complex because of his bald head. He added: "It was only recently that he has been able to obtain a wig." Wigs for balding men are free under Britain's National Health Scheme.

CAPITALISM

Nothing is superior except by comparison

WHEN we compare the conditions of nations and people in anti-capitalistic countries with the security, prosperity, happiness and well-being of our people under United States capitalism, we appreciate our privilege of living in a capitalistic, democratic country.

The basic principle of the free, capitalistic system which we have developed in our country affords opportunity to the individual who is willing to use his talents to the extent of his ability and desire to produce—to accumulate something for investment in a home, a farm, in savings accounts, bonds and other securities, life insurance, the education of his children, and comforts of life—and become a capitalist.

The following facts give us a deep appreciation of what capitalism has done and is doing for our country and its people.

Private capital in the form of taxes and purchases of United States Government Bonds made it possible for us to spend three hundred thirty billion dollars in carrying out our part of the program in winning World War II. This, of course, is unimportant when we consider the loss of life and permanent and partial disability which our youth sustained and which cannot be measured in dollars.

Our participation in World War II has left us today with a national debt of two hundred fifty-seven billion dollars, but on the credit side we find that our annual national income, at the current rate, is equal to 90% of our total national debt. Of this total national debt, thirty-nine billion dollars are in treasury obligations owned by Government agencies, so our net debt is slightly over two hundred eighteen billion dollars.

The United States free enterprise business system is operating at its highest level, furnishing employment to sixty-two million people at the highest hourly and weekly earnings ever recorded. Stockholders and corporations, after paying the highest peacetime taxes in the post-war years, have had the highest net average earnings in history from their investment.

Our farmers had cash income from marketing last year amounting to twenty-seven billion five hundred million dollars, the highest on record.

Total farm assets of our country amount to slightly more than one hundred twenty-seven billion dollars, against which there is an indebtedness of only twelve billion four hundred million dollars. Thus our farmers have ownership equity of over 90 per cent in their farms.

In non-farm homes, counting apartment buildings with four or less families, and all valued at a total of two hundred billion dollars, our home owners have an equity of one hundred fifty-eight billion dollars—a substantial ownership of 79 per cent.

Therefore, as a result of the opportunity provided by our free-enterprise capitalistic system, the people of our nation have a free and clear ownership in their homes and farms of 83.4 per cent.

Our people have savings of more than one hundred thirty-six billion dollars in government bonds and savings accounts.

An additional ninety-seven billion dollars are on deposit in commercial bank accounts.

Our men and women have a cash investment of sixty billion dollars in life insurance policies.

A high percentage of our working people are provided with unemployment insurance, sickness, accident and retirement benefits, financed by employers, employees and government. Others who are not covered by these plans and who find themselves in need are provided for by governmental and social institutions.

We are increasing our efforts to improve the standard of living of the people in the lower income brackets.

The United States, with only six per cent of the world population and seven per cent of its land area, under its democratic, capitalistic system, before World War II, produced forty-seven per cent of the world's manufactured goods, but what is more important, ninety per cent of that production was consumed within our own borders. Today we are producing over fifty per cent of the world's manufactured goods, of which a substantial percentage is for other countries.

Capitalism is backing freedom of worship and providing increasing educational opportunities by constantly giving more and more support to the two things upon which our democratic, cultural civilization depends—spiritual and educational values.

We have a permanent investment in churches and schools of eighteen billion five hundred million dollars and are spending annually eight billion dollars for religious and educational purposes.

Membership in the churches is increasing at a much faster rate than the increase in the population, and in our Sunday Schools at an even greater rate.

In the past thirty years, elementary school enrollment has increased 13.5 per cent, high school enrollment 146.1 per cent and college and university enrollment 351.6 per cent.

Our public school expenditures per pupil enrolled have gone up from $48.02 in 1920 to $132.06 in 1947, or 175.0 per cent.

Since 1920 the population of our country has increased 43 per cent and the investment in school and college equipment has increased 571 per cent.

Since the beginning of our industrial and scientific development in the early 1800's, the capitalistic system, due to individual freedom, initiative and ingenuity, has given the world more of the comforts and conveniences of life than mankind had received in the previous 5000 years of civilization.

Under this system our people as a whole are happy and united, are increasing their capital and enjoying a fuller spiritual, cultural and material life.

Today our scientific and industrial knowledge and experience in the various fields of peaceful activity are open to the rest of the world, and in this respect we have joined with other like-minded nations in contributing to the technical assistance program of the United Nations.

No nation, no individual, no venture, no private or public institution, no program for the welfare of people can progress without capital.

It is each individual's duty to contribute to the preservation, protection and improvement of our democratic civilization on a basis which is sound and fair to all our people.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Restraint Needed

Washington, Dec. 18. In the war we are fighting in Korea today and the immensely vaster and more terrible one with which we are threatened, a very considerable factor apparently has not been noticed by the public nor given the attention it deserves by either our civilian or military leaders.

This is the exceedingly grave matter of censorship in the interests of national security. In no other war in our times has this been so conspicuously absent. In no other period has it seemed so vitally needed. This is not the fault of the newspapers or the war correspondents. Actually, the only request for censorship has come from the reporters in the field and the only unfavorable comment on its lack has been made by one or two first-class journalistic military analysts. These are men who yield to no one in their devotion to the freedom of the press or in their abhorrence of unnecessary censorship. Nevertheless, they are shocked at the unbridled license that so widely prevails here and abroad. They feel deeply that some kind of restraint is essential, ashamed it does not exist.

Neither the Russian nor the Chinese Communists seem to need a spy system here. All they need is to tune in their radios and read our newspapers. Nearly every day and nearly every night these spill all the inside information there is. They make life easy for the spy. He no longer has to practice bribery and corruption. He no longer has to dig, intrigue and work. There is nothing he wants to know he cannot get merely by reading the press columns and listening to the air commentators. All of our weaknesses are there displayed—detailed and documented. Literally, the covers are pulled off of everything.

The number of divisions we lack to have an effective army; the obsolete character of our weapons; the shoddy nature of our equipment; the reasons we cannot under present conditions hope to win either in Asia or in western Europe against Russian aggression; the hopelessness of our position should the Soviets start something else somewhere else while the great bulk of our military power is locked up in Korea; the futility of our representatives at the United Nations and the frightful way in which we are bleeding to death economically—all this and more is being trumpeted to the world every day. That it gives vital information to our enemy is undeniable; that it spreads confusion and alarm at home is equally so.

There are several things to be said in its defense. The chief one is that mostly the depressing facts thus presented are true and that nothing short of the truth will arouse the people, the Congress and the Administration to the sort of action for which this crisis cries. Failure fully to describe in detail our military feebleness and shortcomings, it is claimed, would do more harm than good. In no other way than full revelation of our weaknesses, shocking as they are, can the nation be jarred out of a false sense of security, prepared for the sacrifices that must be made, forced to grasp the realities and move toward the bipartisan unity which is so essential.

Conceding all this, there nevertheless is a strong feeling that some limits should be laid down and some restraints imposed. No one wants to suppress news and it is important to give the American people the facts. But it does seem that some way might be found to lessen the hysterical and panicky outpourings in the press and on the air. A considerable part of this emanates from high-level officials of the Government—including some in the armed forces—who for personal reasons ought to be above feeding this sort of stuff to their favorite columnists and commentators. They got into this habit through the long fight to drive Louis Johnson out of office—and it now seems to have become ingrained. Probably the Johnson resignation was necessary, but the continuation of that kind of campaign, involving complete exposure of our internal disabilities, is certainly not desirable.

It is easy to identify some of these "sources" and a growing number of newspaper men are restive about the situation. They do not, of course, want another absurd Office of Information in charge of another Elmer Davis.

They don't want rigid restrictions that hamper straight reporting. But most of them would welcome such a censorship as that conducted in the last war by Mr. Byron Price, who managed to guard the national security by securing the co-operation of newspaper publishers and reporters without ever making them feel the weight of a censorship. In brief, under Mr. Price's intelligent direction they developed a sense of responsibility and censored themselves. Incidentally, most of them would also welcome some action to keep the so-called Voice of America, which operates under the State Department, from such activities as its recent silly boasting of the extraordinary effectiveness of its propaganda beamed to Communist China just before the Chinese Communist armies poured over the border. That, of course, was worse than the beaming to western Europe of the music of a New York jazz band as a sample of American culture and progress. But both were stupid.

FRUIT PEACE

DODDINGTON, Eng. — (INS) — Britain's Fruitarian Society today offered mankind a free and simple prescription for building a race of superhumans—"less chewing and more thinking." Secretary Evelyn Clare Oliver, speaking for the society founded in 1903 to form a "great crusade" for a "human and humane" diet, declared that the way to becoming a superhuman was to live on "the kindly fruits of the earth."

PITTSBURGH, — (INS) — Steel atoms are given a "one-track" mind at the Westinghouse Research Laboratories by special rolling and heat-treating that lines them all up in one direction. This improves the steel's magnetism and makes for lighter, cheaper and more efficient electrical equipment.

went for lunch, and began deliberating the second time at two o'clock, reaching a verdict at 2:50. The prosecutrix, a Trenton, N. J., sweetshop waitress, wept quietly as the jury returned its verdict of guilt. The crime took place Oct. 17, 1948, near Curtis Lake, Morrisville, and was investigated by Trooper George A. Gollub, who was then stationed at the Langhorne substation of the Pennsylvania State Police.

What the jury never knew was that both defendants pleaded guilty in September, but Judge Keller refused to accept their plea because they said the crime took place in New Jersey.

Whitehair was sentenced June 6 by Judge Edward G. Biester, after pleading guilty to robbing cars at Washington Crossing, to serve not less than six nor more than 12 months.

A detective of the Trenton, N. J., Police Department, almost caused a mistrial when he almost revealed that Gagliotti stole a car to take the girl riding to keep a date with her and Whitehair. The statute of limitations for rape, being only two years in New Jersey, has expired (Oct. 16, 1948, being the alleged date of the crime, and the two defendants could not have been prosecuted in New Jersey. Whitehair has been in reformatories prior to this trouble.

In default of $2,000 bail, Whitehair was remanded to the County Prison but Gagliotti furnished bail.

William Henry Harrison, ninth president of the U. S. served the shortest term. He died 31 days after his inauguration.

Fire Routs Two Families From Their Croydon Homes

fin, by five p. m., the group had gathered food, furniture and necessary clothing for the Ulmers.

"Anyone wishing to donate clothing and shoes for the children, a four-year-old boy and a two-year-old and one-year-old girl will be greatly appreciated," say the women.

en. "The Bucks County Rescue Squad will gladly deliver any furniture or clothing to the family," it is stated. "Dresses in sizes 20 and 22 are needed."

Ulmur is under G. I. Training at the present time. He was a former resident of Croydon and he recently returned to Croydon with his wife and family. His reason for returning here he stated: "I always liked Croydon and the people in it." After the fire was extinguished and their loss became evident it was really heartbreaking. But when their kind neighbors started to act, Mr. Ulmer again turned to his wife with this statement: "See, I told you the people in Croydon were very fine and they would never let you down. We didn't do wrong in coming here." The Ulmers will live in a small home owned by William Conn who has graciously loaned it to them while the necessary repairs will be made to their own home.

Organizations in the borough and annually entertains at an inter-club event.

Mrs. Thornton gave a reading, "Even Unto Bethlehem," and numerous musical selections were enjoyed.

President Mastin said the next meeting of the women's club will be held in January but did not announce the specific date or indicate what the program will be.

Election of officers was held at the meeting of the Warrington Township Fire company recently. Both Warrington was named president, other officers elected were as follows: Vice president, Sidney J. Riebel; secretary, Joseph H. Penrose; treasurer, Irvin L. MacNair; financial secretary, Franklin R. Ottmer; corresponding secretary, Peter J. Ries; chief, Worton E. Harp; assistant chief, Vincent Turner; second assistant chief, William Bowen; foreman, James Brown; chief engineer, Ellis Lewis; assistant engineers, William Schade, Erwin Mayer, Harry Kralik and Herman Blair, and trustees, Eugene Grammes and David F. Worthington.

With 14 members in attendance the women's auxiliary of the company held a business meeting, when Mrs. C. Leroy Murray reported that $13.33 had been netted as the result of serving meals at the fire house on election day. She also reported that a well-known make of stove has been offered for sale at a reasonable figure. After brief discussion, the auxiliary decided to buy the stove.

Mrs. Frank Schmidt was presented the door award, and following the meeting, refreshments were served at a nearby diner.

Members were informed the annual banquet will be held at Warrington on Thursday evening.

At the re-organization meeting of the Richboro Fire Company, held recently, J. Edward Blossinger was elected as president.

Donald Noll and Carl Anderson were elected first and second vice presidents, respectively. Albert Laalvia was made treasurer, and Joseph Ambler was re-elected secretary. Clifford Wyant was chosen again serve as fire chief, and Robert McClanen was named chief of the fire police. Two trustees were elected, Larry Fesmir for three years and Harvey Stackhouse for two years.

Three men were appointed to serve as members of the firemen's relief fund association. They are Rev. Donner B. Atwood, Brinton Ogeland and John Fleer.

The president announced the calendar for the coming year will include a membership drive, March, the carnival in July and an annual turkey dinner in November. Plans were proposed by the women's auxiliary for a Spring dance to be sponsored jointly by the fire company and the auxiliary. It was announced that the fire company property suffered no damage in the storm, and that the firemen had had one false alarm in Churchville that day. An auditing committee composed of Harvey Stackhouse, Rev. D. B. Atwood and Howard Clark was appointed. The next meeting will be held on January 2.

CHILDREN'S MITTENS ARE EASY TO MAKE. ARE NICE YULE GIFTS

By Frances Vannoy

(Home Economics Extension Representative)

No child ever has too many warm mittens, especially when he has snow for snowballs. It doesn't take long to make a pair of comfortable mittens from good parts of a discarded snowsuit or leather jacket. A child's Christmas isn't complete without a new pair of gay mittens. Patterns are available with the thumb and mitten cut in one piece or with the thumb set in. The type with the thumb set in takes a little longer to make. When cutting out mittens be sure to follow the grain line of the material so they will be comfortable to wear.

Leather has a grain line, too. To determine this line, pull the leather gently in each direction. The part which has the greater give or pull is the crosswise line. Mittens must give when the hand is folded so cutting on the grain line is important to the fit. When using leather, it is a good idea to make the lining separately for ease in drying.

Make the mittens long enough so they protect the wrist. Sew on knitted cuffs or wristlets. Discarded woolen stockings make excellent linings and also furnish the knitted cuff. Mittens may be decorated with bright colored embroidered initials or scraps of felt. Work mittens may be made from good parts of discarded overalls, then lined with woolen material or wool stockings.

MEASURE GALS

LONDON — (INS) — There's a sneaking suspicion in Britain that women are getting heavier, and the Clothing Industry Development Council aims to find out for sure. The Council announced that they are planning to take waist, hip and bust measurement of one out of every 100 women in Britain. The job will be done by women.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

St. Mary's Hall

BURLINGTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—Christmas Carols echo through the corridors of St. Mary's Hall these days. They are not quieted when the various rehearsals are over, for the spirit of Christmas permeates every part of the school.

There are rehearsals for "The Mystery," the Christmas pageant given each year that attracts visitors from far and wide, particularly graduates of the last ten years period. This year it will be held on December 20, the day before the beginning of the Christmas holidays. It will be held at five o'clock and it is suggested that those wishing to attend arrive early as the Chapel is always filled to full capacity.

This year for the first time a section of the choir will go to "Evergreens" at Moorestown Pa., to sing carols. The choir will be directed by Mrs. Vanita A. Smith, St. Mary's organist and head of its Music Department.

The Christmas dinner will follow "The Mystery." Although the school closes on Thursday, many faculty and students will remain over for the Senior Prom, an event of prime importance during the school year.

The Lower School is participating more extensively in the Yuletide programs this year than in previous ones.

Today at two p. m., the Lower School will present a Christmas program at one of its popular assemblies. Its choir and a quartette will give a program.

Morrisville Borough

MORRISVILLE, Dec. 18.—On Dec. 21st in the high school auditorium, nearly 200 pupils are scheduled to take part in the 16th annual Christmas carol sing at eight p. m. The program is sponsored by the school music department, assisted by members of the school faculty.

Prior to the program, a 21 instrumental ensemble will play carols throughout the high school building. The ensemble is composed of Ronald Paxson, Joseph Ketner, Kenneth Wright, Donald Habel, Richard Rich, Robert White, James Kise and Henry Konat.

Special artistic stage effects to be used during the affair are being prepared by art pupils under the direction of Patrick Boyd.

The following school choruses will appear in the program: The high school mixed chorus, junior chorus, girls' glee club, the octet, junior girls' select, composed of Karlene Hartel, Helen Glynn, Mary Ann Neumann, Patricia Mahmsbury, Gail Paxson and Kathryn Reiter, and the Morrisville High School girls' trio. The trio, which is made up of Carol Dorey, June Thornley and Nancy Alderfer, will be making its first public appearance and will sing the traditional "Gesu Bambino" by Yon. All choruses and groups will be directed by Mrs. Jean Howell and Horace M. Hutchison of the music department.

The "Diorama," an illuminated setting of the "Christmas Story" will be presented. This setting is constructed and operated by the industrial arts department and the art department. Assisting in this production will be J. Wilbur Sauder, Melvin Bouhoulis, and Boyd.

An inter-rotation of the "Christmas Story" in song and speech will be presented by the ninth grade classes as it was done in the days of the "Strolling Players" in old England. Mrs. Sara Turner will direct the dramatic portion of this part of the program.

Soloist for this year will be Doris Rutherford of the Class of 1951, accompanied by all the choruses. During the singing of this selection a "human Christmas tree" will be formed with the use of lights.

Accompaniments to all of the program will be played by Jeanne Harrison, Rae Frances Bunting and Karlene Hartel. The audience will join during the program in group singing of the familiar Christmas carols.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the choruses or by telephoning the high school. Admission will be by ticket only.

America Throws Fastest-Known Plane Into Combat

withholding the news for 24 hours for security reasons.

Until Sunday's battle the only American jets to engage the MIGs were F-80 Shooting Stars, F-84 Thunderjets and Navy and Marine Corps F9F Panthers.

Hinton said that both the Sabers and their adversaries dropped their wing tanks to begin the battle at 18,000 feet.

He said he picked up his MIG and dived for it—holding his fire until he was within 1,200 feet and was able to keep the Red plane in his sights for four separate bursts.

Hinton said:

"I was leading a flight of four

Sabers when we spotted the MIGs on the beginning of a combat patrol between Sakchu and Shanju.

"Our Sabers were cruising at 25,000 feet looking for trouble when we spotted the Russian type MIGs below us at 18,000 feet. My Sabers jumped to the attack.

"When they saw us coming they dropped their wing tanks and tried to get away. We dropped ours and gave chase.

"I picked my man and started after him. When I got him in my sights I held fire until I was within 1,200 feet of him. I let him have the first burst and he started leaking fuel.

"At the second burst he started waver and I let him have it again and he began burning. I had to get under him to avoid the thick clouds of smoke and deliver the coup de grace.

"On the last burst flames enveloped the plane and he plummeted to earth."

With Hinton were Captains Morris Pitts, Birmingham, Ala., and Raymond Janeczek, Passaic, N. J., and First Lt. Paul W. Bryce, Jr., Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

Hinton said:

"We were pouring on the coal full speed ahead and the MIGs were all-out too in their attempt to escape yet we were picking up ground on them."

RECIPES

OLIVE NOODLE CASSEROLE

- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 8 ounces egg noodles
- 1 1/2 cups evaporated milk
- 3 tablespoons mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 cup chopped ripe olives
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 pound processed cheese, grated

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Combine evaporated milk, onion, mustard, olives, salt and cheese; mix well. Add to cooked noodles and mix lightly. Place in four greased individual casseroles. Garnish the center of each with olive slices arranged to resemble flower petals. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes, or until lightly browned.

The violet is America's most popular choice for state flower. It is recognized as such in Illinois, New Jersey, Wisconsin, and Rhode Island.

SCORING SPURT GIVES VICTORY TO FRANKLIN A. C.

A scoring spurt by Franklin A. C. in the final quarter gave it a 50-44 win over Rohm and Haas yesterday afternoon in the opening game of the Bristol Basketball League on the Rohm and Haas court.

Franklin had but a one-point lead, 33-32, as the final got under way. It then started its spurt and clinched the tilt when "Tohy" Oriola scored three field goals in rapid succession and also added a foul for seven points to bring the Franklin total to 45 which was enough points. Before the session was over, Howard Keys, Tony Palumbo, and "Bill" Wallick added double-deckers.

Augie Everitt and Jim Egli scored four points each in the last quarter for the chemical mixers but the Franklin contingent had amassed too large of a lead.

Wallick paced the winners in scoring with 8 field goals and three fouls for 19 points. Ten of his points were scored in the first half to help his team to a close, 22-21 lead. Franklin also had a one-point lead in the first quarter, 10-9.

"Augie" Everitt was high man for Rohm and Haas with 15 points with Egli and Pat Carnvale getting 16 each.

LUCISANO TEAM WINS OPENER WITH "HIBOES"

The Lucisano Brothers quintet, of Tullytown, shook the cords for 23 field goals yesterday as it won its first game of the Bristol Basketball League, defeating the Hibernians, 54-35, on the Rohm and Haas floor.

With the exception of Ken Parr and Joe Berlsford, every player who saw action for the Lucisano team scored at least one field goal with "Johnny" Paone, former Pennsylvania High player, leading the pack with six double-deckers.

The Tullytown aggregation had the lead from the start. At the end of the first session, it was in front, 13-8, and increased the edge to 24-14 at half-time. By the time the end of the third quarter was around, the score was 40-29.

The Hibs had trouble in finding the range of the baskets and faltered on many shots. "Norm" White led the team in scoring with 7 points. The Corson streeters made but 9 fouls in 23 attempts.
